

Global Information, Inc.

Company Description

Global Information, Inc. – GII was the first market research aggregator established in the world. Headquartered in Japan, we deliver real time services globally with offices in Korea, Taiwan, Belgium, and the USA.

WHAT WE DO

We deliver premium market research products and custom research to support your business strategy and decision making processes. We have provided reliable solutions from our 200+ market research partners for our clients since 1983.

A MESSAGE FROM THE CEO

Since 1983, our mission has been the same – to deliver key information to our valued clients.

We aim to serve across the globe, languages, and time zones. Customer satisfaction is our priority.

It has been our continued honor to serve as the bridge between our global market research partners and clients. As we grow into a leading global company, our core focus to assist our clients with the best services and customer care remains unchanged.
