

HKR Japan KK

Company Description

Discovery Bay covers a land area of 649 hectares and is a fully integrated resort style residential community comprised of low to high rise residential development, a deluxe resort hotel, international schools, shopping malls and other facilities. Over 17,000 people currently reside in Discovery Bay.

All aspects of the project including infrastructure, city planning and transportation were developed by HKRI from scratch. HKRI continues to develop the Discovery Bay land bank into residential and commercial facilities on a regular basis. Discovery Bay continues to be one of the largest resort style residential communities in the region and is widely acknowledged as a pioneering model for integrated residential development in Asia.

In Mainland China, HKRI is developing its flagship project, Dazhongli, located in the Jingan district of Shanghai.

HKRI has numerous other ongoing development projects, investments and completed projects in Hong Kong as well as in other key cities in the Asia Pacific region including Shanghai, Tianjin, Bangkok, Singapore, Tokyo and Hokkaido. HKRI shares have been traded on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong since 1981.

HKR Japan KK is planning to develop a luxury condominium and investing properties in Tokyo. And also we are planning a resort development in Hokkaido. HKR Japan is growing company.
