

OMC, INCORPORATED

Company Description

In the decade between 1982 and 1992, OMC set itself the goal of becoming an advertising agency of a distinctive character, specializing in four core areas: medicine, food, housing, and electronics.

In 1993, we added multimedia and telecommunications as new core fields and relaunched ourselves. The results are striking: in five years, we have succeeded in winning a large number of new clients.

Deeply cultivating relationships with clients in fields meshing with our core competences is where we will continue to concentrate our efforts.
