Company Description

Fashion is a global growing industry.
It's you who shoulder the future.

Global fashion market is predicted to be worth about 270 trillion yen a year in the next 10 years, which is twice bigger than now. Our education is based on "Creation, Technic and Innovation", and our goal is a hybrid education which blends tradition and the hottest technology and links creation and business. It allows us to train human resources who will play an active role on the world stage in fast-changing and developing fashion industry.

To get things started, have a dream or goal. If you don't, of course you can take your time to figure out yours. The more you try, the tougher you become. Challenge never loses its importance. And the more you challenge, the more you fail. But this failure enables you to learn a lot and gives you many lessons.

Fashion product is like the tip of an iceberg. Tradition, culture, art, economy, social phenomena, technology and many other creation sources support what we see in our daily life like the submerged part of the iceberg.

Point of view and philosophy are the source of originality for humans, including creators. Learning something allows you to develop your own value for life, pursue the essence and seek truth, then you will understand the universe that you want to express. Make dreams come true by exploring who you are and taking ample time to open up your life.
