

Supreme Components International (SCI)

Company Description

Global Expertise, Trusted Partnerships, Proven Results.

Headquartered in Singapore, Supreme Components International (SCI) is a premier broadline franchised distributor of electronic components. With over two decades of industry leadership, SCI specializes in providing OEM and EMS companies a comprehensive range of electronic components, including active, passive, and electromechanical components across major industries such as automotive, aerospace, industrial, and consumer electronics.

We empower our OEM and EMS partners through innovation by providing access to over 80+ franchised lines, sourcing alternatives, and expert support from FAEs and product managers to ensure seamless product development and production continuity. Through agile processes, fast BOM quoting, and optimized supply chains, we reduce lead times, streamline operations, and deliver reliable solutions tailored to complex BOM requirements. Additionally, our flexible payment terms and proactive order processing enable our partners to maintain financial agility while keeping their production goals on track.
