

USUI GROUP

USUI BRUSH Inc.

Company Description

For more than half a century, USUI BRUSH has been working diligently on research and development of brush making.

The entire process of brush production, from fine bristle selection, hair mixing, redressing, dying, making, handle polishing and painting, are carried out by craftsman, and we continue to produce brushes under strict quality control. It is our belief that a stable and continuous supply of the finest quality products can only be achieved with the participation of all employees.

As a pioneer of paint brush industry, we have been supplying various kinds of customer's brushes and becoming one of the top company in the world. Because we have been working hard with customer and because there is no compromise we are able to focus on improving our technical capabilities to produce reliable products with responsible quality and to create better brushes with integrity.
