

Nutrition Act Co., Ltd.

Company Description

Our entire business focuses on the concept of ultimate health.

Called the era of growth and expansion, the 20th century saw instability with confrontations between nations and the collapse of the myth of economic growth, and eventually ended without resolving various problems such as the serious destruction of the environment. The start of the 21st century brought with it the beginning of a major paradigm shift.

We have unconsciously been living in an age where our bodies are being adversely affected both directly and indirectly by these largely changing times. In this dramatically shifting period, the idea of health based on the coexistence of people and the environment (nature) has become exceedingly important.

At Nutrition Act, we believe it is important for each and every individual to take an interest in the environment (nature) as an irreplaceable asset, and in "health" in terms of maintaining the natural environment of our bodies.

Nutrition Act strives to communicate with our customers about this concept of health through our products by proposing systems and by offering information services. We hope that we will become your top partner in all things related to your health.
