

FUKOKU Co., Ltd.

Company Description

Since its founding in 1953, FUKOKU has achieved sustainable growth by constantly creating new value by diligently meeting customer needs in line with its corporate spirit "Yes, We Do!"

Today, more than 70 years later, FUKOKU does business on a global basis, producing numerous high-performance products that include wiper-blade rubber, for which it boasts the world's top market share, at 16 production facilities in eight countries.

The auto industry has entered a time of dramatic change as seen in the movement toward electric vehicles and progress in self-driving technologies. At this time of large-scale changes to the business environment, FUKOKU marked its 70th anniversary by formulating the new Medium-Term Management Plan 2026.

In addition to growing its existing automotive businesses, FUKOKU will also actively take on challenges in the growth fields of connected, autonomous, shared, and electric (CASE) solutions and the life sciences.

Seeing change as an opportunity, our goal is to become a beloved enterprise that transforms various hopes into inspiration by helping society realize a sustainable world through rapid growth continuously powered by high-value-added products and solutions based on our proprietary core technologies.
