

Euromonitor International Ltd

Company Description

Our Tokyo office opened in 2010 and is at the centre of managing client relationships and conducting syndicated and consulting research across Japan.

What makes the Tokyo office a productive, interesting and fun place to work?

Our employees in Tokyo are globally minded yet also respectful of Japanese culture. This allows us to bring our international expertise into conversations with local clients to help grow their domestic and global presence while still maintaining local business customs. While the competitive spirit is alive in our office, we emphasise work-life balance, and there is a strong sense of collaboration across our commercial, research and communication teams.

What unique solutions do you provide clients in Japan?

Japanese companies are looking outside of the country to continue growing their business. We help our clients successfully expand their international businesses with well-informed strategies.

| Company Details                                      |  |
|--|--|
| Head Office  |  |
| United Kingdom                                       |  |
| Main Business市場調査                         |  |
| President  |  |
| Tim Kichin   |  |
| Established  |  |
| 1972   |  |
| Number of Employees                                  |  |
| 501 - 1,000  |  |
| URL  |  |
| https://www.euromonitor.com/our-story/about-us/tokyo |  |

Main Office Toranomon Shiroyama Trust Tower 36F 4-3-1 Toranomon, Minato-ku Tokyo, Japan, 1056036