Job Description

- You will support their C-suit/executive team for “digital & innovation businesses” from pre-sale opportunities, active pursuits, and throughout the project lifecycle from strategy to product development services
- Leverage your industry domain subject matter expertise, in-depth consulting foundation skills, and hands-on transformational experience to delivery advisory services in support of technology-enabled business change

- Drive the narrative around the digital journey for the C-Suite by leading, developing, and articulating digital strategies that shape the industries
- Stay at the forefront of digital trends that are disrupting the industries. You will be an ambassador for change. You will solve business problems and drive growth for clients through digital transformation
- Take leading roles working with multi-disciplinary teams, facing off with client stakeholders, SME's and managing client relationships
- Act in a product owner capacity focusing on creation of product roadmaps, managing product backlog and feature prioritization, creating user stories, and actively working as part of an agile team throughout product development
- Increase our presence in the marketplace via participation in conferences, development of thought leadership, and recruiting

Required Skills

- Minimum 6 years of experience in relevant combined industry and consulting experience as a manager/senior manager level
- Possessed an in-depth understanding of specific domain knowledge in areas such as manufacturing, retail, automotive, financial services and healthcare
- Experience in digital innovation, customer experience, and the platform eco-systems and advising clients on market dynamics and trends – with a focus on digital
- Deep understanding of the Software Development Life Cycle, Agile Development, and a strong desire to be at the forefront of Digital Transformation
- Demonstrated success in growing client relationships, driving revenue and leading teams
- Strong experience with stakeholder engagement, organization alignment, change planning, change measurement and communication requirements for large-scale transformations
- Solid project management methodology and experienced with the multi-disciplinary project teams and environments
- Skilled at analyzing complex business issues with the ability to effectively communicate these issues to clients
- Able to anticipate and identify risks and drive action to mitigate and resolve issues as they occur
- Business level of Japanese language fluency is required to communicate with Japanese speaking stake holders
- Strong problem solver and creative thinker with gravitas

Nice to have

- MBA or Masters degree in Computer Science or related subject preferred.
