Job Description

[About the company]

The company provides a number of services for a variety of measures and applications, from novelty measures for building relationships with customers and sales promotion purposes, to personal gift-giving applications, and coupon issuance for community revitalization.

[Main Business]

■Personalized Service

Simply send the URL to receive the gift via QR code, e-mail, or SNS! The gift recipient chooses the items they want, so there are no gift-giving failures.

This service is used for gifts for celebrations such as weddings, births, and anniversaries.

■Corporate Services

Highly customizable corporate gift services for all occasions.

"We want to give novelty gifts to our many customers."

"We want to improve the efficiency of our shareholder benefit program. "

"We want to reduce the cost of managing personal information. "

The company is committed to meeting the above needs unique to corporate clients.

■Regional Revitalization Business

This service uses the company's gift system to make it easy to send specialty products from travel destinations. While eliminating the need to carry souvenirs by hand, it also allows customers to purchase cold and fresh foods as souvenirs without hesitation, which was difficult to use as souvenirs in the past.

The service is being expanded nationwide with the support of local governments!

[Job Description]

You will be responsible for the improvement, operational design, and development of the company's own systems for the company's corporate and municipal services.

In the future, you will be expected to become a leader or manager who can manage and oversee the entire process, including collaboration and coordination with other departments.

You will be assigned to the System Division, which is a team of 32 people, including 1 CTO/Head of Division, 1 Deputy Head of Division, 3 General Managers, 13 people in Tokyo and 14 people in Osaka.

A workplace where communication is active, not only about business matters but also about private life. It is characterized by a close and open relationship with the president and other executives. It is an environment where each individual can work by taking advantage of their strengths!
