Job Description

Company Profile

- A US-headquartered medical equipment manufacturer who are engaging in some innovative partnerships with some of the world's biggest tech giants, are looking for an applications focused business analyst to join their team in Tokyo.

The Role

- You will be the bridge between the Kanagawa warehouse & distribution centers and the APAC technical teams.
- You'll work with cross functional stakeholders to understand their technical problems and help develop workable solutions for them with the Australian and Malaysian technical teams.
- Specific projects will include working on their order-to-delivery and inventory management systems; and you'll also be able to contribute to a major SAP program which is scheduled to run for another 18 months.

Your Skills

- Bilingual ability in Japanese and English is mandatory for this role.
- This role would be suitable for an IT Business Analyst who has an applications background.
- Candidates from the manufacturing / retail sectors would be particularly interesting, but we are open to bilingual BAs from any industry.

Location

Tokyo

Salary

8 - 11.5 million yen

Selling points

- Work with an international medical device company with a strong presence and business in Japan, who are committed to improving the lives of millions of patients worldwide.
- The company is committed to innovation and has been developing sophisticated products through a partnership with one of the world's most respected and well-known tech-giants.
- The chance to really use your Japanese and English skills, as you'll be bridging a very domestic warehouse/distribution team with a very international technical team.
