Job Description

Internal Audit acts as a trusted advisor, ensuring the company's control environment is strong by using a risk-based approach and top industry tools. They compare controls to leading standards and encourage improvements. The team is made up of high-quality professionals who are seen as future leaders. They also aim to be industry thought leaders and contribute to their communities.

Client Details

This organization is a well-established investment management firm with a global presence and its headquarters in Japan. It provides an extensive array of financial services, such as investment advisory, portfolio management, and asset allocation, catering to both institutional and individual clients. The firm has expertise across various asset classes, including equities, fixed income, and alternative investments. With a commitment to research and risk management, this organization focuses on delivering customized investment solutions that align with the unique objectives and risk tolerances of its clients.

Description

- Conduct audits of the Japan asset management business (possibly in other areas too).
- Follow the audit process, including planning, analyzing business processes, identifying risks, preparing audit plans, conducting tests, writing reports in Japanese (and sometimes English), and discussing findings with those being audited.

- Be involved in all stages of the audit, from planning and testing to writing reports and tracking progress and budgets.
- Communicate effectively with the audit team and those being audited, updating managers on important findings and potential issues.
- Verify that any issues found during audits are resolved (Issue Follow-up).
- Continuously monitor risks and controls, and perform risk assessments.
- Manage and support relationships with key business and support partners.
- Stay updated on regulatory and industry developments and share knowledge within the department.
- Help with Internal Audit's efforts to improve efficiency through digitalization, data analytics, and other IT tools.
