Job Description

An excellent opportunity for an actuary to play a key role in financial and enterprise risk management. This position involves conducting independent risk assessments, supporting ERM functions, and analyzing risk-related data within a global insurance framework.

Client Details

Our client is a leading life insurance company committed to robust risk management. Their Financial & Enterprise Risk Management (FERM) division plays a critical role in assessing financial risks, ensuring strong governance, and aligning with global risk standards.

Description

- Conduct independent financial risk reviews under the company's risk framework.
- Support enterprise risk management (ERM) initiatives and governance processes.
- Communicate with global risk teams to align local practices with international standards.
- Perform risk-related data analysis and reporting to senior stakeholders.
- Contribute to actuarial risk assessments and broader risk governance efforts.

Job Offer

- Opportunity to work across various risk functions with career growth potential.
- Exposure to both local and global risk management frameworks.
- Competitive salary and benefits package.
- A collaborative and dynamic work environment with professional development support.

Required Skills

- Strong curiosity and analytical mindset.
- Background as an actuary with experience in financial risk assessment.
- Full Japanese language proficiency for internal communication.
- English reading skills; speaking/writing skills are a plus.
- Experience in the financial industry; life insurance experience preferred.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Fluent in both Japanese and English.
 - Full or partial actuarial qualification
