Job Description

Join the credit risk planning team at a top-tier financial institution, driving critical oversight functions within Mizuho's risk division. In this planning-oriented role, you'll take ownership of credit policy frameworks, portfolio monitoring, internal rating systems, and management reporting. This is a rare opportunity to influence credit risk practices while supporting executive-level meetings and global coordination.

Client Details

Our client is a leading Japanese financial group with a global footprint. The firm is known for its rigorous governance structure and long-term investment in enterprise risk. Their credit risk function plays a central role in ensuring sound judgement and strategic credit decision-making.

Description

Depending on your background, you will be assigned to one of the following focus areas:

1. Credit Risk Governance & Planning
  - Oversee credit policy, internal ratings, self-assessment, write-offs, and provisioning

- Lead credit portfolio monitoring and reporting
- Drive credit risk model management and enhancements

1. Departmental Planning & Operations

- Prepare business plans and track progress toward goals
- Coordinate overseas branch reporting and oversight
- Act as secretary for executive committee meetings related to risk

Job Offer

- Contribute to one of Japan's most important credit governance teams
- Collaborate with domestic and global branches in a planning-focused career track
