Job Description

We are seeking a talented Demand & Supply Planner to join a highly functioning Demand Planning team in a leading Consumer company, with a focus on managing and optimizing inventory and supply chain processes.

Client Details

This large organization is a prominent player in the FMCG industry. With a global presence, our client is recognized for their high-quality products that are enjoyed by consumers in Tokyo and worldwide.

Description

- Coordinate and manage supply chain activities to optimize inventory and ensure smooth product flow.
- Work closely with internal teams and external partners to forecast demand and ensure supply meets requirements.
- Utilize data analytics to identify potential supply chain issues and implement effective solutions.
- Drive continuous improvement initiatives within the supply chain processes.
- Ensure compliance with industry regulations and company policies.
- Prepare and present reports on supply chain performance and forecasts to stakeholders.
- Manage supplier relationships and negotiate contracts to optimize cost-effectiveness.
- Collaborate with various departments to integrate supply chain processes across the organization.

Job Offer

- A competitive salary range up to 7M JPY
- A flexible work arrangement with 40% work from home opportunity.
- An inclusive and supportive company culture that encourages continuous learning and growth.
- The chance to contribute to a global FMCG company based in Tokyo.

If you're a motivated individual who thrives in a fast-paced environment and is passionate about supply chain management, we look forward to receiving your application.
