Job Description

Join a team driving strategic and hands-on marketing for specialized medical technology. You'll support product growth from market research to launch and beyond, helping shape how advanced care reaches clinicians.

Client Details

Our client is a well-established global player in the medical technology sector, with a strong presence in over 40 countries. The organization is known for its focus on life-improving, single-use devices across a range of specialties such as vascular access, urology, and surgical care. With a purpose-driven culture and deep investment in innovation, the company works closely with clinicians worldwide to address complex healthcare challenges.

Description

- Analyze market trends to guide annual and long-term planning

- Develop and execute product marketing strategies from launch to end-of-life
- Coordinate with global stakeholders, supply teams, and distributors to ensure product availability and compliance
- Create sales tools, plan promotions, and manage professional training programs
- Foster market expansion through engagement with medical leaders and academic events
- Liaise with regulatory and sales teams to ensure seamless execution

Job Offer

- Visibility and impact in a globally respected company
- Opportunity to own strategy and execution across product lines
- Career growth in a stable, ethics-focused industry
- Hybrid role with strong support from leadership
