募集要項

Company Profile

A successful fintech company in Tokyo, Japan, seeking an experienced Backend Engineer to collaborate on developing a common infrastructure that will deliver large-scale data to the service side more quickly and robustly using microservices.

The Role

As a Sr. Backend Engineer, you will be responsible for developing project requirements and driving the technical direction of our projects.

- You will play an important role in assisting team members through technical challenges.
- Your tasks will also involve reviewing current operations to identify risks and redundancies.
- You will also develop a comprehensive business understanding, notably in data system management through account aggregation and cross-service application.
- In addition to your core duties for technical progress, you will help design and implement infrastructure initiatives to improve service stability.

Your Skills

Must-Have:

- 5+ years of expertise in developing/operating medium to large-scale online services (ideally in Go, Java)
- Database knowledge, especially relational databases and SQL.
- Experience in designing and developing Web APIs and microservices
- Experience in software architecture and systems testing, ensuring the resilience and scalability of solutions

Nice-to-have:

- Experience creating systems on AWS.
- Understanding of software architecture design using DDD (domain driven design)
- Experience dealing with transnational teams and developing using Kafka.
- Experience in leading teams

Required language skills:

- Business level English proficiency (TOEIC score of 700 or higher, comparable)
- Japanese proficiency is a plus (not mandatory).

Tech Stack

- Web server side: Java (Jersey, Guice, jOOQ), Go
- Database: MySQL, DynamoDB, Redis
- Middleware: Docker, Kubernetes, Nginx, Consul
- Platform: AWS, On-premise

Applicants only in Japan with valid visa

Location

Tokyo

Salary

12M - 15JPY

Selling points

- Hybrid work policy - 2 days in office.
- Mutual/honest interview steps (learning about culture, communication, and teamwork through interview)
