【ABOUT THE COMPANY】

One-stop IT system development studio business
IT new business consulting/ Enterprise system new business planning (DX) development/
Web system planning and development/application system planning and development/
Web production, web marketing and consulting

The company covers all aspects of the IT domain, and its strength lies in its development capabilities with strategy/planning.
The company's business model of providing full coverage from planning to development/operation has been well received and has achieved fierce growth of "1120% in sales in 2 years.

Their features include "IT consulting," "reasonable cost," and "keeping all the systems necessary for the development process in-house," and they continue to realize and provide "the highest quality, at the fastest speed" by having a consistent integration system.

Their production achievements include live commerce, medical live chat communication systems, IoT device control applications, real-time streaming video distribution systems, chatbots, and many others.

In addition, because of the large number of development fields, their development domains are also broad, including medical, financial, insurance, IoT, corporate recruiting, and new electric power.
