COMPANY OVERVIEW

An international Japanese non-ferrous parts manufacturer seeks a Sales Engineer. Your role involves securing new projects within the automotive business division, with a focus on car seats.

JOB RESPONSIBILITIES

- Collaborate with sales representatives to understand customer requirements.
- Handle projects with OEM and Tier 1 customers.
- Work with R&D departments in other countries to develop products.
- Address technical problems related to our products.

JOB REQUIREMENTS

- Proficient in professional English communication.
- Knowledge of Computer-Aided Design (CAD) tools for creating 2D and 3D models.
- Experience in coordinating automotive projects, including planning and problem-solving.
- Knowledge of car seats is preferred.

- Willing to travel (up to 50%)

BENEFITS

- 100% home office.
- Access to cutting-edge expertise from an industry leader.
- Opportunity for growth within an international team.
