募集要項

A leading financial institution seeks an IT Support Specialist to ensure seamless IT infrastructure operations and provide first-level support for trading platforms and banking systems. This role combines hands-on IT support with exposure to international banking technology.

企業情報

Join a globally recognized financial institution known for its strong presence in corporate and investment banking.

職務内容

- Manage and maintain IT infrastructure, including Windows servers, Active Directory, and network devices.
- Provide first-level support for trading platforms (Bloomberg, Reuters, etc.) and banking systems.
- Ensure the smooth operation of voice recording systems and IT equipment.
- Prepare technical documentation and implement system checks and controls.
- Handle IT reporting, user access, and asset management.
- Support system upgrades, software deployment, and daily reconciliations.
- Collaborate with head office and vendors for issue resolution.
- Provide standby support outside regular office hours as needed.

条件・待遇

- Work in a globally connected financial institution with a significant regional footprint.
- Competitive compensation and benefits package.
- Opportunities for continuous learning and professional development.
- Exposure to cutting-edge banking and trading technologies.
- Collaborative and international work environment.
